

Jenna Stramaglio Appointed as ECS Ambassador

Scottsdale, AZ, July 9, 2026 — Stramaglio Consulting today announced the appointment of Jenna Stramaglio as ECS Ambassador, a role designed to expand Executive Connection Summit's reach, strengthen industry relationships, and engage forward-thinking leaders across the office technology and workplace services community.

As ECS Ambassador, Jenna will help connect executives, dealers, OEMs, technology partners, finance partners, and service providers with the ECS platform. Her role will focus on fostering meaningful conversations, supporting strategic participation, and helping ECS continue to serve as a leadership forum for the future of the industry.

"Jenna brings the relationship-driven mindset, industry understanding, and collaborative energy that ECS represents," said Mike Stramaglio, President and CEO of Stramaglio Consulting. "As the industry continues to evolve through AI, automation, managed services, and new workplace business models, ECS needs leaders who can help bring the right people into the right conversations. Jenna is exactly that kind of connector."

The ECS Ambassador role reflects the Summit's broader mission to build a stronger executive community beyond the event itself. Through this appointment, ECS aims to deepen engagement with emerging leaders, strategic partners, and organizations committed to shaping the next chapter of the industry.

"I am honored to serve as ECS Ambassador and to help support a community that brings together some of the most innovative and committed leaders in our industry," said Jenna Stramaglio. "ECS is more than a summit. It is a place where ideas, relationships, and action come together."

The Executive Connection Summit will continue to convene industry leaders focused on business transformation, technology adoption, leadership development, and future growth opportunities.

About Executive Connection Summit

The Executive Connection Summit is an executive-level forum for leaders across the office technology, workplace services, imaging, IT, and business solutions industries. ECS brings together dealers, manufacturers, technology providers, finance partners, and thought leaders to exchange ideas, build relationships, and advance the future of the industry. ECS 27 will be held at The Scottsdale Resort and Spa from February 28 through March 3, 2027. For more details, visit <https://ecsnetwork.tech/>.

-###-

About Stramaglio Consulting LLC

Stramaglio Consulting is committed to taking imaging channel businesses to the next level with a focus on new technologies, innovation and consulting services. Its founder, Mike Stramaglio, is a well-known and respected industry leader with more than 50 years' experience in the office imaging technology channel. Most recently, he was president of MWA FORZA with Konica Minolta after its acquisition of MWA Intelligence, the company he founded in 2006. To learn more visit <https://ecsnetwork.tech/stramaglio-consulting/>.

-###-

Contact:

Mike Stramaglio
mike@stramaglioconsulting.com
650-888-9645

Follow us here!

